Silvia is calling his friend Pedro. He was in a geography field trip last week.

Silvia: Hello. Is Pedro there?

Pedro: This is Pedro. How are you Silvia? Glad to hear you.

Silvia: Pedro, I am anxious to know about your trip.

Pedro: It was a great trip but...

Silvia: What happened? Didn't you find what you were looking for?

Pedro: You know we went to the coast .We supposed there were stones with fossils inside on the beach we went to, but it was not easy.

Silvia: Why?

Pedro: The stones were very hard, incredibly hard It was impossible to break them open.

Silvia: But at least you had a good time.

Pedro: Of course we did. It was a terrific experience.

Silvia: Excuse me, but actually I don't know what fossils are?

Pedro: Well they are the remains of plants or animals that lived a long, long time ago.

Silvia: But why do you collect fossils.

Pedro: Because you can't collect dinosaurs!! Collecting fossils of creatures which lived thousands of years ago is fascinating.
